

Appeal to the CSHS Alumni

We Need Camarines Sur Naga City Educational Center

(By the CSHSAA Committee On Solicitation)

The proposed Educational Center will soon be constructed in the City of Naga. This building will stand on the eastern side of the present Division Office at Peña Francia Avenue inside the C.S. High school compound. The present Provincial Board has donated a six-hundred square-meter lot for this building with a frontage of thirty-five meters. As soon as the donation papers are perfected, the construction will begin. The three associations CSHSAA, CASTEA and NACITEA will finance the construction estimated to cost more than one hundred fifty thousand pesos.

Why the Center?

This Educational Center is necessary because it was felt that during the yearly alumni home-coming of the CSHSAA, teachers conventions and other educational societies in Naga City and in this province, the auditoriums of private institutions are used. The present CSHS library is now too small for this affair. Even the grounds are not safe for the present needs. When the center building is constructed, the local chapters of national educational associations may have separate rooms for their permanent headquarters, for example, the Camarines Sur Home Economics Teachers Association, the Future Homemakers of the Philippines, the Science Teachers Association of the Philippines, the Philippine Family Life Workshops, etc.

The important records of many offices needed for educational research are only thrown away and there is no depository for these vital materials at present. School records are being lost every year due to floods, fire, and other calamities. Imagine the compiled records of Bikol folklore submitted after liberation by hundreds of laymen and teachers throughout the Division of Camarines Sur which are nowhere to be found due to the lack of space in the present Division Office building. This compilation of vital educational materials for Bikol culture will find a permanent home in our Center.

Then comes the donation of hundreds of volumes of books, magazines, encyclopedias and other general reading coming from abroad solicited by teachers from educational foundations and from peace corps volunteers who happened to be assigned in this province. These vast materials are good for references and such materials may be used by our students, teachers, parents, and researchers. The big problem is where to house these voluminous reference materials. Again, this Center will answer this need. Donations from private individuals and collections coming from other sources may find their place too in this edifice. While there are public and private libraries in Naga City, the Center may ultimately be used as clearing house in the future.

Also become the tourist attraction if properly advertised because the school projects especially the native handicrafts and other agricultural as well as commercial products of the Bikol Region may be displayed. The Center may easily become the display center for the Bicol Development Board which up to now has no headquarters, incidentally inventors in this part of the Bikol Region may find this Center a place where they could find statistical data needed by those interested in business.

Also a Rendezvous?

Finally, the Center can be a meeting place for alumni who may desire to hold socials or provide rooms for those who during their short visit to the City especially during the regional Peña Francia festivities cannot find adequate accommodation. It can be the meeting place for fellow alumni now scattered in many places in our country and those who are abroad.

These are but a few of the services of the Center. But once constructed we can now look forward with confidence and pride for affording our alumni researchers and teachers a permanent headquarters in the center of Bicolandia.

Our Appeal!

Fellow alumni, we are counting on your generous support! This Center is a big challenge to our capacity to build now for tomorrow. The six thousand who graduated and passed through the portals of the Camarines Sur High School cannot be wrong in supporting this worthy project. The five thousand teachers in this school division have unanimously given their share. How about yours?

4 Filipinos to train in U.S. under NEC-U.S. Aid grants

Two government officials and two faculty members of a Manila medical school departed recently for the United States to undergo specialized training, sponsored jointly by the National Economic Council (NEC) and U.S. Agency for International Development (U.S. AID).

They are Jimmy D. Blas and Francisco L. Liaguano, assigned to the Office of the Executive Secretary, Manila, and Doctors Veronica C. Agatep and Jesus E. Fojas of Manila Central University (MCU).

A senior executive assistant, Blas will spend 6-1/2 months training in public records management at the University of Connecticut. He will also observe modern business management methods and techniques during visits to several federal and state agencies.

Liaguano, a technical assistant for information, will participate in 15 months of schooling and field observations in mass communication, with emphasis on publications, radio and TV media. He will attend a specialized course at Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich.

Both Blas and Liaguano are lawyers and live in Quezon City. Blas is from Laong City, Ilocos Norte; Liaguano is from Davao, Albay.

Dr. Agatep will receive specialized instruction in biochemistry at the Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Va.; and Dr. Fojas in physiology at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, N.C. Each course of study is for two years.

The two MCU instructors, who have been granted fellowships under the NEC-U.S. AID program, will also observe department organization and teaching techniques in medical schools, and attend national meetings and conferences related to their fields.

More Nations ask U Thant To Stay in Office

UNITED NATIONS—Expressions of support for U Thant and requests that he remain as Secretary General of the United Nations continue to pour in.

On August 30, just two days before U Thant has promised to announce whether he will make himself available for another term, 14 nations of the African Malagasy Union expressed the hope that he would stay on. The fourteen nations in the union are Cameroon, Central African Republic, Chad, Congo (Brazzaville); Democratic Republic of the Congo, Gabon, Ivory Coast, Malagasy Republic, Niger, Rwanda, Senegal, Togo and Upper Volta.

The same day, another communication was received from the foreign minister of Nepal, Miti Nidhi Bista, expressing similar sentiments and asking U Thant to continue his work.

Representatives of numerous other African and Asian countries as well as the Western European nations and the major powers of France, United Kingdom, Soviet Union and the United States have previously requested that the Secretary General make himself available for another term in office.

N.V. Rejection of Asian Peace Initiative Deplored

WASHINGTON—Rejection of the Asian peace initiative by North Vietnam places the responsibility for continued sufferings of the Vietnamese people directly upon the communist leaders, says New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake.

Mr Holyoake voiced disappointment that North Vietnam had denounced a recent peace initiative by Thailand, Malaysia and the Philippines. "I had regarded this attempt to get negotiations under way as one of the most promising developments in recent months," he said. He particularly welcomed the initiative coming from a group of Asian countries. The latest move was the last in a long line of peace attempts to be callously rejected or ignored by Hanoi and Peking.
