MORE SAFETY

The accomplishment of United Paracale Mining Co. in winning first place honors in the safety competition for the Paracale District for 1939 is a tribute to the work of the recently organized Mine Safety Association. While all of the mines in the area showed improvement as a result of the training received and the precautions taken, United Paracale excelled in frequency and severity.

As more and more attention is being paid to safety work and to first aid training, safety records for the various companies will naturally improve. It is particularly fitting that United Paracale, as the first producer in the Paracale district since the revival of that area by the Marsman interests in 1933, should take the lead in reducing the accident rate and making working conditions better in general.
