

Congressional Materials in the Prov'l Board?

Local legislative bodies such as the municipal Board of Naga City and our own provincial Board are good training grounds for future Congressmen. Congressional talent scouts for both the NP and LP can now start the hunt preparatory for the 1969 elections. There's no doubt about the presence of good congressional materials in the municipal Board of Naga City although they have yet to go along of Naga City, although they have yet to go along way to convince the electorate of their maturity and fitness for a congressional seat.

In the provincial Board however, there's the in-dependent-minded Vice Governor, who is proving to be a meticulous fiscalizer. B/Member Tible has the cool and sober attitude to all legislative problems; while B/Member Oriño has the facility in speech as well as aggressiveness. B/Member Abonal has the ex-perience, maturity, and broadmindedness in the ap-proach to various problems contrenting the Bacid. In a "nutshell", the present provincial Board is com-posed of good congressional materials who could be easily harnessed immediately for a real legislative job in Congress, come 1969. in Congress, come 1969.

Speaking of congressional materials, provincial Secretary Veluz could not just be disregarded. As a matter of fact one of those I have mentioned above doesn't seem to like Veriong's face, possibly because of his being a potential rival for nomination in '69. That's just it, you know.

Presently, the appointment or designation of Engr. Jimmy Sarte as Ex-Officio Provincial Engineer is quite in order. Between now, and the end (June 30) of the current fiscal year, ho we ver, the PlBoard should be able to decide whether or not it would be of advantageous for the province to have its own prov-incial Engineer.

Up to now, I still don't understand why Malaca-hang insists on running the police force of Manila, the implementation of RA 5185 (Decentralization Act) not withstanding. The more it is intriguing to think why Gen. Ricardo Papa insists on helding-on to his position as Chief of Police of Manila inspite of his being a persona non-grata to the Lity Moyor. Other self-respecting military officers would have long re-quested for relief or tendered their resignations at the first sign of loss of confidence by their imme-diate subcrior. diate superior.

The mistake however of Gen. Ricardo Papa in acting as if he were still the Chief of the Philippine Constabula-ry who is responsible only to the President, doesn t make right the acts of Mayor Villegas in interfering with the detailed matters of police administration - to usurp in effect the powers and resposibilities of the Chief of Police.

We bitterly protest, Mr. Aytona

Somewhere in the middle part of 1965, when the Execu-tive Committee of the Nacionalista Party convened in Manila to select the eight (8) senatorial candidates for the election of that year, one had to be necessarily included to represent the Bicol Region. There were several Bicolano aspirants from whom to choose and one of them is the present Senator Domi-nador Aylona. Being the weakest of all the Bicolano uspirants, he had to have a powerful PADRINO to support his nomina-tion. There was only one man for the big job and that was Ex-Ambassador Jose Fuentebella of Camarines Sur.

So he persistently appealed in person and in continuous convincing correspondences why it should be him that deserves support.

support. The Grand Old Man of Camarines finally acceded to Aylona's supplications and entreaties by likewise pleading to all the members of the Executive Committee by correspondences for their unconditional support. And the result was the election of Aylona as topnotcher of all the eight winning nominees. We all became happy beyond bounds because the emblem of the Bicol region was upheld to rise high and above all others. In consistency to this regional sentiment and affection, the people of Camarines Sur gave Aylona an overwhelming majority that easily made him the senator that he now is. But what is Sena-tor Aylona doing now for the Nacionalistas in our province in particular and for the people in general? Nothing mosth writing on namer. For all, we can read

In particular and for the people in general? Nothing worth writing on paper. For all we can read in the local papers and hear from radio telecasts are his help for Albay. Despite the fact that for the last 60 years Albay had been receiving much bigger financial help from the Nation-al funds for having three Congressmen against two only for Gamarines Sur which is two times bigger in land area and in population, practically all his financial help and- attention are given to Albay. And to make his concern for us more pungently painful is when he worked hard for the appointment of a Liberal to be Judge of the CFI which is now correctly in terpreted to mean that, to the opinion of Aytona, no Naciona-lista lawyer of Camarines Sur is qualified for that position.

We don't only protest, Mr. Aytona, against your disre-gard for us but also for messing up things of party and public interest in our province. This is because we know that despite the fact that Cledera was already officially proclaimed by the NP Junta for governor on September 8, 1967, you supported Felix Fuentebells in his maneuvers to have the official procla-mation of Cledera annulled. The people of Camarines Sur only trust a leadership that symbolizes justice. In a leadership where partiality is imbued, hatred takes the place of loyally.

Is Aylona a leader or not, when he contradicted the cor-rect and justifiable support for Cledera of the Grand Old Man who was most instrumental in making him a Senator?
