

Building Construction

By JUAN J. CARLOS

President, United Construction Co., Inc.

DURING the month of July, the Office of the City Engineer approved building permits for construction work amounting to ₱2,314,355. For the same period in 1953, the volume of work authorized amounted to ₱7,091,450, in comparison with ₱3,478,360 in 1952 and ₱2,591,750 in 1951.

Some of the big projects that were started during the month under review were:

A 3-story apartment for the Paramount Investment Company, on Rosario Street, costing ₱250,000;

For the Luzon Stevedoring Company, a 1-story steel building on 2nd Street, near Tacoma, estimated at ₱200,000;

A 2-story commercial building on Barcelona Street, near Peñarubia Street, for Yang Hua, costing ₱100,000;

On Elcano Street, a 3-story commercial building for Julian Cue, costing ₱90,000;

For the Compañia Maritima, a 1-story steel warehouse near Pier 8, North Harbor, estimated at ₱100,000.

Prices of all essential building materials registered slight decreases during the period under review due to the slow business occasioned by continuous rainy weather. Galvanized-iron sheets, which can be considered the barometer for other materials, were quoted at ₱5.50-₱5.60 per sheet of gauge 26, 8' long, down ₱0.20 from last month's price. Reinforcing steel bars are lower by ₱5 to ₱10 per ton.

With the arrival of around 2,000,000 bags of Portland cement from Japan and Belgium and with the completion of repairs in the Cebu Plant, there is now available in the local market a sufficient supply to cope with the demand up to the end of this year. Although the government ceiling prices are pegged at ₱3.90 per bag wholesale, and ₱4.30 per bag retail, this item is now being sold at ₱3.40 to ₱3.50 per bag.

Port of Manila

By W. S. HURST

Executive Officer, Luzon Brokerage Company

DELIVERIES for the month of August from the South Harbor piers totalled 80,000 tons of general cargo.

To further aid in wiping out the pilferage evil, the Customs Bureau has issued an order to the effect that the drivers and helpers on brokerage trucks are no longer permitted to enter the Pier sheds to locate and handle cargo. All cargo is now transported to the tail-gates of these trucks by the Delgado arrastre personnel. This is slowing up deliveries at times, but also eliminates unnecessary handling by too many people.

It is rumored that warehouses may in the near future be built in the Customs zone to help relieve the congestion at the Piers when too many ships arrive at the same time carrying heavy tonnage. This sounds very interesting. Meanwhile it is hoped that we will not again experience the congestion we had some few months ago when more cargo arrived than could be handled efficiently in the small space at present available.
