

"THE LAW GOVERNING LABOR DISPUTES IN THE PHILIPPINES"

Former Justice Laurel, in his foreword to the book on "The Law Governing Labor Disputes In The Philippines" of Senator Vicente J. Francisco, said the following, among other things:

"I have read with consuming interest this book of Senator Vicente J. Francisco on the different aspects of the labor question and, because it seeks to throw light on the varied forces which are working to shape here, as in other parts of the world, a new way of life that is 'collective in its economic basis, democratic in its political control of all who serve society by their work, and individualistic in the unfettered achievement of the creative workers,' I am convinced that, through it, we have fallen heir to a masterly contribution to our growing legal literature. The reader, I am sure, will find interspersed within its pages a rich reservoir of indispensable source material, compiled with exhaustive thoroughness and analyzed with such discriminating taste and comprehension that belongs only to men of the caliber and stature of the distinguished author who is not only a jurist but also a man of letters, an experienced practitioner, legislator, and scholar. I, therefore, take this opportunity to recommend it to the members of the bench and the bar and to the general public, and to congratulate Senator Francisco for this singular valuable service to the community."
