

SPIRITUAL REHABILITATION IN THE PHILIPPINES

The Philippines needs spiritual rehabilitation. It is because the Filipinos are also flesh and blood. They have undergone great suffering as a people.

The spiritual leaders of the Philippines and the Republic of the Philippines should join in bringing about the spiritual and moral message of Christ to the people. For the people are still bewildered and uncertain on what course to take, whether that of righteousness or that of lawlessness.

In this war great masses of people have lost their moral virtues of Christianity. Instead of living a happy normal honest life they indulge in stealing for a living. That shows that they have not regained their lost moral standard. It is therefore the duty of the moral leaders and the Philippine's whole population to campaign against this disease of the mind.

The homes, the churches, schools and clubs should all join in putting this out. Put all those racketeers in jail. If they are in office see to it that they will never come back. That is the straight deal with those who will put the country in disgrace.

When the hand grenade was hurled at President Roxas after he delivered his speech on the plaza, here in America and perhaps throughout the world it was headlined in the newspapers. Thank God that President Roxas was not hurt. But that is a national shame. Filipinos in America and a great portion of the American people were sorry.

Here and there Filipinos that have been in the Islands not many months ago testify to the fact that there are grafts and corruptions going on in the Philip-pinas today. There are robbers on the highways, and the lonely places. Government officials put on pressure for red hot tips.

These things that has been mentioned are the fruits of corruption. The real sickness is in the soul. It is the duty of the church to preach the Gospel of Christ so that our people will be one of the best and finest people on the face of the earth.

Now is the time to combat against this evil an dcorruption in our country. Let us teach our people that it pays to be honest, to be pure, to be kind and to love our fellowmen as we love ourselves. And also share some of what you have to your less fortunate brothers. By this, our country will be in peace and the Philippines would be a little heaven on earth.
