

FOR THIRD GRADERSANOTHER LESSON IN TABLE MANNERS

A POLITE BOY OR GIRL always has good manners at the dinner table. Sometimes when thoughtless boys or girls finish eating before the older persons have finished, they wish to leave the table.

It is not polite to do this unless you ask to be excused.

Read the sentence under the picture. Then say it aloud. "Never leave the table without asking to be excused." Remember that always.

Show this picture to your friends. Ask them to read and remember the sentence.

Show it to Mother and Father. Tell them you will be polite and will always ask to be excused. They will be pleased.

Read and Choose

Read each sentence and draw a line through the word not needed.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. A polite child always has bad good manners at the table. | without asking to be excused. |
| 2. Leave the table when before others have finished eating. | 4. Your parents want you to be polite impolite. |
| 3. Never always leave the table | 5. People dislike like polite children. |

Some More Drawing

Draw another square measuring three inches on each side.

Then draw the picture shown above of the three persons at the dinner table.

Under them write or print the sentence which you see.

Memorize those words. Say them to the boys and girls in your room at school.