

three teams that, last year and this summer, competed for the B.A.A.F. (Baguio Amateur Athletic Association) championships, i.e. the Apaches, the UYAO (United Youth Athletic Organization), and the crack Baguio City High School Team of 1946-47.

From the Apaches, '46 and '47 B.A.A.F. champions, come their cool-headed R. Paraan; F. Young, probably Baguio's best known all-around athlete; fast guarding Bobby San Pedro; and Remy Estabillo, skipper of City High '40-'41 team, the team that wowed them all in Cagayan and Ilocos Norte.

The UYAO's (runner-up in the B.A.A.F. games '47) contributed their captain, towering Asiong Callao; deceptive and fast-trotting "Bogs" Blancas; fancy ball-handling Romy Florendo; and Peping Puzon, last summer's junior stand-out.

STARS

City High's loss Baguio Colleges' gain. Last year everybody knew that City High's basketball line-up was due for a nose-dive. Its first team, except one was graduating en masse. Subsequently the Muller brothers entered Mapua Tech and Lorico Espejo enrolled at B.C., leaving behind one brother to join another brother, Gualberto, who in his own right is also a hoop star. The Muller-Espejo brother combination, with our Manoling Montilla to more than fill up the odd gap, made hoop history this year by romping through all North Luzon teams, thereby winning the right to represent this region in the national secondary championships in Manila. They walloped La Union North Provincial High (Baenotan), 108-12, and tripped, tided and handcuffed La Union South Provincial High (Agoo), 79-8.

Except for Q. Jacob (B.A.A.F. junior circuit) who has already done so, the general consensus of opinion about the newcomers is that they will have to show their wares first.

The line-up: R. Paraan, B. San Pedro, G. Espejo, L. Espejo, M. Montilla, A. Blancas, A. Callao, B. Carino, J. Gonzales, E. Reyes, C. Villareai, J. Puzon, F. Young, R. Estabillo, Q. Jacob, O. Rimando, D. Ferrer, R. Florendo, A. San Pedro and J. Lambinico.

The $64 Question

THE BULLETIN boards called it special session but to all and sundry, it was just another one of "those election rallies."

The idea was to publicize the candidates, give them a definite time to convince and persuade the "august body" and get known. (5 minutes for a candidate and 3 for the satellite who introduces him).

What must have been the biggest surprise of the afternoon to the president was the fact that he was introduced but never warned. Socratic Hermy Cruz (Editor: Jolly Times, Camp John Hay) popped him the all-important question: How about athletics?

Never at a loss, the President allowed himself a gulp and a clearing of the throat. The answer: Blame the weather! Further elocution revealed: (1) outdoor activities... may not take place until after the rainy days are over; (2) A physical director will shortly be engaged; (3) To prepare for the good weather in the second and third quarters and the summer session, the line-up of college athletes is now under way.

Quipped a bystander: "Line-up? Rogues' Gallery, you mean!"

We Can Do A Lot

Boarding the lion in his den is not only hard to do these days—it's well nigh impossible. But last week, after days of fruitless search, three, not only one but three, of those elusive muscle-men of the girls' volleyball team got
