Roxas Seeks To Create Citizen's Counsel League

Sen. Gerardo M. Roxas sponsored recently a bill seeking to create an independent and permanent office to be known as the Office of the Citizen's Counsel.

This permanent and independent office shall be clothed with the powers to investigate, criticize publicly, and recommend remedies for the faults of the bureaucracy.

Senator Roxas explained that today only the grossest instances of mismanagement are accorded enough remedy and cognizance. "Sufficient attention and correction are seldom given to the many serious, if undramatic, instances of injustice to individuals, injury to public interests, and plain and simple inefficiency imputable to the various administrative sectors of the government." Roxas said.

Blame for this he stated "lies on the inordinately political orientation of most of our administrative reforms that are generally geared towards the sensational and the big scandals in the government."

"The less sensational but very real difficulties that are everyday inflicted on the common tao by the inefficient, arbitrary and the outright unscrupulousness of the

No Fake Sweeps Tickets Being Sold to the Public Says Manager

NEREO ANDOLONG, Chairman and general manager of the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes strongly denied and answered the charges of fraud and mismanagement thrust against the PCSO by Senator Benigno S. Aquino, Jr. in his privileged speech last Wednesday night in the Philippine senate. Andong said that there were attempts made by some persons to defraud the PCSO by presenting some "doctored" tickets for collection of prizes but were frustrated and nipped in the bud.

Tickets issued by the PCSO to authorized agents and being sold to the public are printed with great care and security on imported paper from England and foolproofed with perforations that could not be duplicated.

Andong furnished the Senate Committee on games and amusements and tourism the documents describing the different steps in the process of production and distribution of tickets of the PCSO, so it would be fully informed of the matter.

The manager further explained that all unused spoiled and damaged paper requisitioned for printing of tickets are always condemned.

Price Breakthrough

Abaca World Market Increased

A floor price for abaca fibers in the world market that would result in the general increase of the per capita income by our local producers was approved in the recently concluded international conference on hard fibers in Rome, it was announced by Dr. Estelito M. Madrid, Chairman-General Manager of the Abaca Corporation of the Philippines.

Madrid, who arrived from Rome recently was one of the Philippine delegates to the crucial meet that presages the upward swing of our heretofore dwindling abaca industry.

The mission, Dr. Madrid added, was a great success because an increase of at least 55 per bale would mean an increase of $35 million earning in foreign exchange for the country considering that our annual average abaca export is around 700,000 bales. In his discussion with abaca end-users and industrialists in continental Europe, America and Japan, Madrid observed that:

1. The inroad of synthetic fibers in the manufacture of cordage poses a great threat to the survival of the abaca industry.

The fall in demand for hard fibers and corresponding drop in price is traceable to the increasing use of synthetics;

2. Rope manufacturers would prefer synthetics to abaca because its production cost is lowered. However, since the cost to produce synthetics for the present is three times as Schistosomiasis is a chronic parasitic disease caused by a blood worm (schistosoma Japonicum) transmitted by certain type of aquatic snails. The disease affects not only human beings but also domestic animals such as pigs, dogs, carabaos and cattle.

Army type Pre-Fab Schoolhouses may be manufactured in C. Sur

by Joaquin T. Tuduran, Jr.

As Advent looked towards Christmas, so does Lent, to Easter. During both seasons of waiting the liturgical color is purple. It is the color-symbol for penance. Because it is often raised, it is good for the question: By penance, self-denial and mortification have any meaning still today? The things of this world and the human body have also their values. Why this laborious exercise of virtue in devotion to obtain Christian perfection when we ought to acknowledge the goodness of human nature? To many of us Christians these days, especially among our literati and urban folks, penance and asceticism have indeed lost their meaning the March Apostleship of Prayer leaflet reminds us, because the pursuit of pleasure and comfort has become our attraction and we are still called to penance.

The March intention reminds us that the purpose of penance and asceticism is to free the soul of inordinate elements, lest we become entangled in the enjoyment of earthly things. A person indeed cannot be master of his passions, nor be temperate in the use of earthly goods without some restrictions. We ought, in a responsible way to practice the penance which before God we know we need; what and how the law of penance. We should not only accept the sufferings, difficulties and pains which God in His Divine Providence allows us and do some voluntary acts of penance besides. Devotion to the Sacred Heart, we are reminded one more, will help much - especially with its practice of reciprocity to help us understand these virtues. By penance and asceticism we begin to think, feel and act like Christ. Without these virtues, we cannot even think of ourselves as genuine Christians.

If you will, remember fast and abstinence is kept on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. Strict abstinence must be observed on all Fridays of Lent. On the Fridays of the year outside Lent all the faithful who have completed 14 years of age have the choice of either to observe abstinence, or to perform a work of mercy, an act of piety or any work of the lay apostolate. The stress, do not forget, is on the spirit, not the letter of the law.

The stereotyped image of the convento-priest, thank God, is fast becoming passe. We see the "new breed" a pacemaker in many things seemingly far removed from the ambit of the sanctuary and sacrily. Among last year's TOYM awardees was young secular priest of the Manila Archdiocese who was cited for his "humanitarian" services. For one called to the professed vocation of an "alter Christus" nothing less could be expected of him. The award committee however the public expectation and approbation of the new breed's realization that there's more to the priesthood besides Mass and the Sacraments and that "souls" entrusted to their care are not disembodied creatures and that impoverished and hungry parishioners scrounging about for their next meal won't have much time for God. For Kikoy Molina to receive the immediate award a TOYM award. But he too is

Rep. Felix A. Fuenbella recommended to Col. Eleazar Pinto, chief engineer of the Presidential School Building Committee, Camp General Emilio Aguinaldo, the establishment of a School Building Plant for the manufacture of army-typed prefabricated schoolhouses in the municipality of Garhitorena here.

The second district solon's move was in response to the representations made by Garhitorena Mayor Tomas B. Riva.

Fuenbella battled strongly for this project in as much as Garhitorena has a vast area of forest from where lumber materials required maybe taken.

He said there are plenty of sand and gravel resources in the nearby places around the locality which can be made into hollow blocks at a very low cost.

Fuenbella said the location of the school building plant in Garhitorena is both strategic and convenient for purposes of distribution.

The municipality of Garhitorena is located along the Northeast Coast of this province and it is accessible to ocean-going vessels which anchor at the Sisiran Bay just in front of the townsite, he said.

Fuenbella said, school building materials can be cheaply transported to reachable places in this province, or municipalities of Camarines Norte, Catanduanes, Albay, Sorsogon, Maybato and even the Eastern Samar provinces.

The establishment of this plant will also create job opportunities for residents of the coastal towns of this province like Caramoran, Garhitorena, Sarama and Parabcan, he said.

The second district solon added the establishment of a School Building Plant in Garhitorena is now under the Presidential School Building Committee authorities.

Longer pasture leases up for study

The plan for longer leases of pasture lands in order to stimulate animal raising is under study by the Bureau of Plant Industry on orders of President Marcos.

The President directed newly-designated Forestry Director Teofilo Santos to prepare the plan in two weeks. The Chief Executive observed that the ten-year period provided by existing regulations is too short for long range planning.

The Constitution, however, authorizes the grant of 25 year leases, renewable for another 25 years.

Juan R. Revelo, assistant chief of the Land Uses Division of the Bureau of Forestry has informed Malacanang that only a few lease contracts had been approved.

He said that the granting of leases of pasture lands was even suspended in 1965, when then Justice Secretary Salvador Marino ruled that pasture grants should be issued only through public bidding.

The Marino decision nullified all lease grants issued earlier. But this was modified by President Marcos such that pasture grants issued prior to the Marino ruling should be subsisting.

STTA advocates 'Wildlife Week'

The Sorsogon Tourist and Travel Association has sought a presidential proclamation declaring a National "Wildlife Prevention Week."

In seeking the proclamation, STTA said "the problem of preserving wildlife in the country has become critical in the wake of the destruction of their habitats by logging operations and kaingin's."

It urged civic organizations and school authorities to drum up action for a coordinated drive towards the conservation of the country's wildlife now facing extinction due to indiscriminate hunting and destruction of habitats.

STTA stated that observance of a week in a year wherein everyone of all walks of life is made aware of the value and necessity of the conservation of wildlife was necessary to protect it from becoming extinct.

He cannot be so concerned with the sad state of the road and the wooden bridges that link his five-year old mountain parish of San Ramon to the outside world. He is one with the barrio captains of his parish in all these concerns regarding development. In fact, his is the moving spirit.

The enthusiastic response generated by the Priests' Seminar sponsored by the Union of Clergy in Naga City, last month will probably result in the holding of such sessions as annual affairs. Priests not only from Caceres but from Legazpi (e.g. Msgr. Jose Sanchez) whose appointment as bishop was announced at one noon session and Sorsogon (e.g. Fr. Gregorio Triunfante, Spiritual Director of the first Curia in Caceres) attended the three-day lecture forum and exchange of ideas. On the panel of lecturers with two Dominican theologians (Fr. Loenardo Legazpi and Fr. Jose Sison), a Carmelite Bishop (Msgr. Julio X. Labayan, National Director of Social Action) and Naga Major Seminary's Fr. Alberto Roman, C.M., was a layman, Atty. Jeronimo Alonzo, President of the Federation of Farm Farmers, who talked on "Rural Development." His message? The root cause of the problems of poverty and hunger in the world is social injustice and no Christian can fail to ignore it and do something about it!

For Public Information

We are here bringing to the attention of all the citizens important matters affecting their lives which are given primordial concern by the present provincial administration. Immediately after Governor Cledera assumed office, one of his original plans was to organize the Provincial Economic Council for the purpose of assisting him in the implementation of his program of government. This thinking of Gov. Cledera preceded a considerable amount of time the recent Executive Order of Pres. Marcos enjoining all provincial executives to organize as early as possible their Provincial Economic Councils. One of the imperative necessities for the people of this province is to know our total present population. According to statistics it has reached the staggering total of 1,015,000 which is about the equivalent of the populations of the provinces of Albay and Camarines Norte. Of this total population of our province 63% depends on farming and the remaining 30% directly or indirectly depends on fishing industry.

Immediately upon assuming office, Gov. Cledera has launched an intensified agricultural campaign with the fullest cooperation of our Agricultural Productivity Commission. In appreciation to the farmers' enthusiastic response, the Provincial Board in the Month of January approved a resolution setting aside the amount of P2,600,000 for purchase of short-crop seedlings for distribution to the small farmers. Through his own efforts our province has also received sometime in the month of February this year, a considerable amount of varied seedlings from the American government which were immediately distributed to our farmers by the Agricultural Productivity Commission.

The second phase of the provincial administration that the Governor is now attending to is the promotion and improvement of our fishing industry in conformity to its importance to the 37% of our population who depend on this undertaking for livelihood. The Philippine National Bank, for the purpose of helping our provincial administration has recently approved the amount of P25,000,000 as aid to our small fishermen in the form of small loans. In view of the insufficiency of this financial aid, the Provincial Governor hopes that the Provincial Economic Council upon being organized will successfully find a way by which funds for aids for our small fishermen can be augmented.

Part of the Governor's time during these two months that he is in office was spent in mutual consultations with the Officers Incharge of the Bureaus of Land and Forestry. The purpose was for him to obtain full knowledge of how these two bureaus are administering these public properties of the government. The Governor is also very much interested in the reforestation of our denuded forestal areas. It is our belief therefore that with all his dedication to public service the people can hope to see a new province emerging from what Camarines Sur was known in former days.

SPEC. PROC. NO. T-71
X _____ X
O R D E R

Jose T. Leelin, in representation of his minor son Joseph G. Leelin thru their counsel, has filed a petition praying that after due notice, publication and hearing, the entry of name in the Civil Register of Tigao, Camarines Sur, for June 13, 1949, under registry No. 508, wherein the name of a child appearing therein as LEE LIM be corrected to appear as Joseph G. Leelin.

It is alleged by the petitioner that the entry in the record of birth for June 13, 1949, a child named LEE LIM was born to the spouses Maria Paz Go and Jose T. Leelin, as evidenced by a certification by the Local Civil Registrar attached to the petition as annex "A". That the child since his birth up to the present in good faith had been using the name Joseph G. Leelin and the reasons for the change of his family name are:

"3. That the entry of the name referred to in the immediate preceding paragraph is purely a clerical error, and the mistake in the entry might have been committed by the one relating the name of the child to the clerk in charge in the office of the local Civil Registrar, or by the latter in writing the name in the civil register.

4. That the said spouses Leelin never intended that the child concerned be so named LEE LIM, but the true and real name is JOSEPH G. LEE LIN; and as a matter of fact this name Joseph G. Leelin has been commonly, officially and continuously used since his birth up to the present, in schools he attended, in correspondence and in the records of private and other public institutions and agen-

The Supreme Regent of the D of I international organization will be met by the Daughters of Isabella at 2:00 p.m. on March 9 at the Pili Airport. The motorcade will proceed to the Penafrañca Shrine for Thanksgiving Mass and Te Deum at 4:00 p.m. From there, the Guest and the delegates will call on His Grace, Msgr. Teopisto Alberto, Archbishop on Caeceres.

March 10 will be the crux of the convention. After the opening of the morning session, the Filipino and American Flags will be presented side by side, and the "Pambansang Awit" and the "Star Spangled Banner" will be sung.

Mrs. Anna C. Walsh will give her keynote speech during the morning session of the convention. A set of instructions explaining the different duties and works pertaining to the officers of the circle and also their responsibilities in accepting their charges will be discussed.

His Excellency, Archbishop Teopisto Alberto will address the Daughters in Luncheon Speech. After this, Mrs. Anna C. Walsh, a Bachelor of Music degree holder, will respond with a song.

The afternoon session will consist of workshops which will include a formal business meeting and a long initiation of all the recently recruited members of all the circles of the Bicol Region, officiated by the Supreme Regent.

5. Consequently, petitioner desires that his son continue using the name by which he has always been known and referred to is Joseph G. Leelin because so many public records in different government offices will have to be straightened and rectified to avoid confusion unless petitioner request for correction be granted."

It is hereby ordered that the petition be set for hearing on August 7, 1968 at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, before this Court sitting at Tigao, Camarines Sur, and notice is hereby given that anyone who has objections to the petition should file, on or before the date of hearing, his opposition thereto with a statement of the grounds therefor.

The PNR head stated that the railroad is steadily increasing its economy service to serve the rural folk in the south who are at present forced to walk long distances to centers of population or avail of the highly dangerous rail staves improvised by enterprising residents in these areas. Meanwhile, Jimenez ordered the organization of a group of operating personnel to study and revise train schedules to make them responsive to the needs of its passengers and shippers. Presently, he said, train schedules are "operations oriented" rather than "service oriented".

U.S. Peace Corps Volunteer Helps in Building School Project in Sipocot

Sipocot, Cam. Sur.—The first school to school PTA Aid project which was a joint project of the United States of America school to school PTA aid project and the Sipocot South Central School PTA, was recently inaugurated and dedicated at the Sipocot South Central School grounds with provincial, municipal, school officials, prominent citizens and the people of Sipocot attending.

The impressive and durable school building which has three classrooms was started through a substantial donation of all pupils of the St. Giles Grammar School at 1033 N. Columbian Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, 60302, USA, a sister school of the Oak Park International Organization. The President of the Oak Park International Organization is Mrs. Earl Jacobson while Mrs. James Mary, O.P., is the Principal of St. Giles Grammar School.

The project was initiated and realized largely through the efforts of Mr. Marty Salmon, Peace Corps Volunteer, who was once assigned in the Sipocot District, and the PTA of Sipocot South Central School under the indefatigable efforts and leadership of Mr. Bernabe Avengoza, President, and Dr. Carlomagno Manuel, Business Manager.

During the program, the dedication of the building was made by Mr. Marty Salmon in behalf of the Peace Corps Volunteer National Director, and the acceptance was made by Sipocot District Supervisor Fernando Alsisio. After these, Board Member Hilario Abonal and Provincial Board Secretary Silverio Veluz delivered addresses as guest speakers. Mrs. Myrna R. Alanis, Principal of the Sipocot South Central School, gave a word of thanks and the closing remarks.

The others who were present during the affair were Academic Supervisor Jose Realubit, Principal Felimon Regalado, Mrs. Remedios Alsisio, ex-Mayor Pablo Salazar, Councilors Rosita Sancho, Maria Lasat, Alfredo Lim, Valero Pena and Silvestre Rances, Mr. Leopoldo Jarama, Rev. Father Aquilino Ochoa, Mrs. Rosita Manuel, Dr. Felix Macalino, Jr., and Atty. Quirino Biasco and Severo Dacanay, Jr. —sdjr.

The above-mentioned towns urgently need an emergency hospital each on account of the lack of transportation facilities. They are the Phil. National Railway for transportation. When the railway line is disrupted by rains, landslides, floods or mechanical breakdowns, inhabitants of these towns are unable to transport their sick and wounded to Naga City or to Lopez, Quezon for treatment and hospitalization.

Congressman Felipe has also included in said Public Works Act of 1963 an appropriation of P100,000 for the construction of a Veterans' Annex Building to the Camarines Sur Provincial Hospital, for the exclusive use of sick war veterans and their families. Another sum of P100,000 is appropriated in the same Act for the expansion of the Camarines Sur Provincial Hospital, which at present can hardly cope with the many patients being brought in from all over the province.

Schistosomiasis . . .

The oncomelania quadrasi snail while in the Americas it is the Austroarabis glabrata and in the Philippines, the carriers are two varieties of snails, Bulinus truncatus and Planorbis boissyi.

Sorsogon is one of the sixteen provinces in the country where snail fever is endemic. The late Dr. Trinidad Pesigan estimated that no less than 500,000 people in the whole country are victims of this tropical malady.

The first case of schistosomiasis in this province was discovered by Dr. Pesigan who conducted a survey of Irosin in 1947. He found 22 indigenous cases related to some snail foci in the municipality.

In 1950, a field unit headed by Dr. Edio G. Garcia discovered the prevalence of the waterborne disease in Juban. The team found 16 of the 294 persons examined in that municipality to be positive for snail fever.

At that time, only Juban and Irosin were declared to be endemic areas. In 1962, another team was sent here in connection with the national program to integrate the control of schistosomiasis with the activities of rural health units.

Snail surveys showed the presence of infected snail hosts in barrio Mabini in Casiguran and barrio Dancalan in Bulusan, bringing of four the endemic municipalities in the province.

According to the regional schistosomiasis advisory team (RSAT) assigned in Irosin, the finding in Bulusan was considered significant "in view of the fact that it is totally removed from the Irosin-Juban valley being separated from it by at least 16 kilometers of rough terrain including the Bulusan volcano which rises up to 5,000 feet."

The finding also discounted the previous belief that the disease is confined within the interior valley of Irosin and Juban.

A World Health Organization schistosomiasis advisory team led by Dr. Louise J. Oliver visited the snail fever control project here in 1962. The other members of the team were Dr. Nickler Pinto of Brazil and Zihni J. Buzo of Australia.

Schistosomiasis, according to Dr. Oliver, has been characterized as a deceitful disease, bringing decay and debilitation, instead of attacking openly like plague or cholera.

Medical authorities are of the belief that extent of the disease

much as the natural fibers, our abaca can still compete with synthetics. If we fail to lower production cost and increase our percentage of research, it is very likely that in the very near future synthetics may totally replace abaca in the manufacture of cordage considering that millions of dollars are being spent annually on research to lower the cost of the man made fibers.

3. Release of the American abaca stockpile would not as much affect the world market price of abaca as it would the price in continental America. This is so because while five million pounds released in the next few years may not adversely affect the status of the industry in the American market, fourteen million pounds which was released last year at a price even lower than current prices depressed the American market and reduced the needs for fresh abaca purchase from our country.

The salvation of the abaca industry is in total industrialization, particularly the manufacture of paper where synthetics has no place at all. The best paper made from and more uses of abaca pulp are being discovered. America alone is consuming forty to sixty per cent of her import for the manufacture of paper from abaca pulp. Japan and the other countries are in the same trend, Madrid added.

Allaying fears expressed by some sectors of the total replacement of abaca cordage by synthetics, Madrid said that Manila conferences would be held such a move because besides the inherent properties of abaca cordage for maritime uses the freight charges of our average annual abaca export of 700,000 bales give that no less than 37 million annually.

To solve the present problems of the abaca industry and in pursuance of the great interest of President Marcos to help abaca producing people, Madrid enumerated the steps taken by the ABACORP, thus:

1. Well financed trading operations for domestic price stabilization;
2. Organization of a well guided abaca farmers and producers federated association in order to regulate the volume of national production and quality control;
3. Extension of small commodity and facility loans to members of federations payable upon delivery of fiber to liberate farmers from the clutches of unscrupulous middlemen;
4. Intensive industrialization with priority to abaca pulp, sacks and cottage industries using abaca to reduce the dependence of abaca fibers to foreign consumers with adequate financial backing by government and other financial institutions;
5. Lower the cost of production by increasing yield per hectare through scientific agricultural methods, farm management and extensive mechanization to improve quality and greater percentage of fiber extraction; and
6. Establishment of an abaca research center to discover additional uses for abaca fibers and its by-products.

National Volunteer Office Ready to Serve

The Philippine National Volunteer Service Committee (PNVSC), whose headquarters are located at PACD Central Office in corner Prudencia-Espana sts., Manila is ready to serve private and governmental groups doing or about to engage in volunteer work in this country.

This was recently announced by Sec. Ernesto M. Maceda, concurrently PNVSC Chairman.

"The Committee will offer technical assistance to volunteer organizations especially in the aspects of planning, programming, training and, if possible, in actual fielding of their volunteers," says Secretary Maceda.

"This will also serve as clearing house and coordinative body for all volunteer efforts in the country to avoid duplications and proliferation of volunteer services in prosecuting such noble endeavors as assisting the underdeveloped communities in the rural as well as urban regions."

A technical group was newly organized to act as planning and working staff. They are composed of representatives from the Departments of National Defense, Education, Labor, and PACD, SWA and School Volunteer Program, according to Elizabeth Barbero, executive secretary.

The PNVSC also set up the Asian Secretariat for volunteer service, a tie-up program with the International Secretariat for Volunteer Service (ISVS) with headquarters in Washington, D.C. It coincided with the recent visit in Manila of Dr. Michael von Schenck, Secretary General of ISVS.

The PNVSC was created in 1964 by virtue of Exec. Order No. 134 of the then resident Macapagal. This was later reauthorized and strengthened by Exec. Order No. 105 of President Marcos, dated Dec. 11, 1967. This specifically transferred its chairmanship from the Department of Foreign Affairs to the Secretary of PACD, and included in the committee private volunteer groups.

Presently, the PNVSC is composed of representatives from the Departments of Labor, Foreign Affairs, Health, Education, Agriculture and Na-

Proposed Land Reform Amendment

The National Land Reform Council recommended to Malacañang proposed amendments to the agricultural land reform code for incorporation into the bills to be introduced during this regular Congressional session.

The proposed amendments are: changes designed to accelerate shift to leasehold under terms more favorable to both tenants and landowners, deferment of disposition on the ground of personal cultivation, Land Bank guarantee on individual farm purchase, alteration of interest rates charged by the Agricultural Credit Administration, increase of loan assistance, and the charge of procedures pertaining to court of agrarian relations.

NLRC Chairman Conrado S. Estrella said, these amendments would certainly overcome these deficiencies, allay apprehensions of some quarters and give vigor to the policy of President Marcos to spread the benefits of land reform throughout the country.

The NLRC proposed amendments were prepared by a legal staff named by Estrella from all the Member Agencies of the Council. Agrarian Council Fernando A. Santiago, Solicitor Raul I. Goco and Judge Caudencio Besa of the Land Authority made major contributions in the drafting of the amendatory bills.

tural Resources, Public Works and Communications, National Defense, PACD, SWA, and the National Economic Council.

Also included the PRRM, Operation Brotherhood International, MARIA, Work-A-year program, School Volunteer program, and any other organizations that may be invited by the committee into its fold in the future.

Fund Lack Snags Milk Project

Lack of funds has snagged a plan to tap carabaos for milk at the Sorogon Dairy Farm. The plan was mapped out a couple of years ago as a means of tapping a potential source of milk. This would have been in addition to the bureau of animal industry's program of buying cow's milk which started here in 1965 when the pilot dairy farm was opened.

Lack of funds has prevented the implementation of collecting carabao milk from farmer-cooperators in the province. Under the aborted program, carabao's milk was to be pasteurized separately from cow's milk.

It was learned that no fund has been released during the past two years for the dairy development program of the local pilot project. During that period, the then Gov. Juan G. Frivaldo had repeatedly sought the help of Malacañang and the BAI for the release of funds under the Dairy Development Law so the operation of the project here could be expanded.

There's a lot to look forward to for this little boy at the National Orthopedic Hospital. Hope is born and nurtured on the human services dispensed by entities such as this hospital which receives aid from the Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office. Just as valuable are the assistance extended by other sweepstakes beneficiaries like the Girl Scouts of the Philippines, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Red Cross Blood Bank, etc., numbering over 4,000 in all.

Efforts to improve the health and welfare of the nation are being exerted day in and day out, year after year, through the various services made available through the PCSO.

bureaucracy remain unattended and unremedied," Senator Roxas declared.

In explaining the measure, Senator Roxas declared that since in a democracy the bureaucracy exists for the citizens, his rights and interests are both ensured and enhanced when bureaucratic weaknesses are brought to official and public notice, through the instrumentality of a truly independent and competent investigator with sufficient access to relevant and vital information. The Office of the Citizen's Counsel, which is through after the Office of Ombudsman in Scandinavian states, shall have jurisdiction to investigate on a complaint by any person or on his own motion, any administrative act of a government agency when he has reasons to believe that such act may be (a) unjust, unreasonable, oppressive or improperly discriminatory even through in accordance with law; (b) under a mistake of law or fact, partly or wholly; (c) without adequate statement of reasons; (d) based on grounds that are improper or irrelevant; (e) done inefficiently; (f) in conflict with law. (g) otherwise erroneous.

"Signatories can be seen between the office herein proposed and the offices created in the past under the Office of the President through executive orders but unlike the latter previous offices, the Office of the Citizen's Counsel shall be a permanent and independent office that will not be under the Office of the President nor of any other office," Senator Roxas emphasized.

He added that the experiences of the Integrity Board of President Quirino, the PCAC of President Magsaysay, the CPAPE of President Garcia, and the PAGCOM of President Mosaogal, offices which were created by their respective administrations and later abolished, shows that insulation from politics is basic to the efficient and effective performance of these various government agencies.

In sponsoring the measure, Senator Roxas stated: "Two considerations, at least, stress the great need for the Office which this bill seeks to create. The more evident of these is, of course, the very prevalent problem of graft in the government. The stench of immorality blights many parts of the governmental structure. Covetous bureaucrats continue to deprive the citizen of the kind of government service he needs and deserves.

"The other consideration goes even deeper than the problem of graft. It arises from the greatly involvement of the affairs of the citizens.

"Today, administrative agencies, because of the vastly expanded demand for government services, have grown in number, powers and functions. Set against this growth of the bureaucracy, the exist-

Libre'ng Pilipino (5)

"So live that you can look a man straight in the eye." — Pres. Espirito Quirino.

Editor's Note: — The Libre'ng Pilipino is a picture of the century's local scenery and life, transcending social change and idealism of the past to the future. From time to time under the series will be presented libid biographies of government and private executives, professionals as well as laymen who one way or another contribute to the uplift of the Filipino environment.

The Irony of Our Heritage — Three hundred years of dominant Spanish rule and half century of American tutelage in the field of education and the art of self-government did accomplish the desired two objectives, namely, from the Spaniards — the rich religious enlightenment and its fatal fanaticism ingrained in the Filipino soul and from the Americans — our flare of the English language and our taste for foreign standards.

The jeans, the minis and what will it be next? You may have it coming, the topless? Of course those night clubs have all these darn bellicose unusual circumstances going all along. And the movies — the uncensored striptease and burlesque is a usual fantastic delight. And then the hippies — a year ago I was getting the run of stories about college students who's a erst for the 'unknown' — the mitigating facts to discover Darwin's "Theory of Evolution."

I was told into believing that the western "transplants" have made unlimited joy rides into the vast scheme of things. We are approaching the saturation point wherein desultory antics and crime upsurge have join hands to forsake our independence to inter dependence.

Year, year and year-out — our hard-boiled politicians have turned to Uncle Sam — the perennial Santa Claus all the year thru to dole out to friends and satellites from mechanized civil action paraphernalia and all about other problems in commerce, trade, the military from internal to regional security and the chief of worldly economics.

For the daring to outdo the classical performance of greatness — we are confronted with the most serious imbalance in our political career. There is really the alternative to state of disenchantment on the part of the populace to reconcile the "performance issue" with the desired "practical results."

This is now our greatest worry. A few more years and there is a long time, our Asian big neighbor — Communist China will have developed its nuclear capability and for sure a nuclear blackmail will follow.

There are signs that our "brand of nationalism" will really come to clash with "American isolationism." In an American pull out to a safe perimeter, will leave the Pilipino the master of his own idiosyncrasy and of his land of a thousand islands.

show which will be participated by selected 4-H Club members representing the 200 clubs throughout the six provinces with a total membership of 6,451 in and out-of-school youth with age ranging from 12 to 21 years old. In Camarines Sur, the provincial rally will be held at the Camarines Sur High School Assembly Hall with Governor Armando B. Cledera as Guest Speaker, and City Mayor Vicente Sibulo as Keynote Speaker during the Opening Program. Board Member Nicanor Orfino will induct the newly elected officers of the Adult Leaders Association of Camarines Sur.

ling checks available to the citizen against bureaucratic abuse and error show certain inadequacies.

"Only a handful of cases of maladministration could well be investigated by Congress; indeed, Congress could not attend to more of such investigatory work without impairing its essential function of legislation. Redress through the press is itself reserved usually for the more serious bureaucratic misbehavior."

The provincial rally is a culminating activities of all 4-H clubs as part of the evaluation of different projects undertaken by the members for the whole year. Winners in the various contest will represent their respective provinces to the National Rally to be held at the Aranelta University this coming May. -ltv
